A pleasant respite...
that LASTS after it's over.

Lifeshine  Respite

For a child or adult with cystic fibrosis, every day is a challenge. The chronic genetic disease fills the lungs and digestive systems with thick, sticky mucus. Difficulty breathing, under-nutrition, painful therapy, infections and hospitalizations are the norm. Oftentimes, more than one child in a family will suffer from the disease.

Following a groundbreaking New England Journal of Medicine report, the medical community recognizes a pollution-free climate high in moisture and sea salt as a most effective natural remedy to help cystic fibrosis patients. Inhaling air in this unique environment helps significantly loosen mucus and, for the next six months or more, patients breathe easier and see a roughly 50% reduction in lung infection and hospitalization.

Child Life Society's Lifeshine Respite Program offers patients and their entire families fully sponsored two week trips to Key West, Florida, near the Caribbean Islands, which features America's most therapeutic climate for cystic fibrosis patients. Families enjoy a modern, comfortable local home that was acquired by Child Life Society and specially designed and stocked with all their personal, medical and religious needs in mind.

With a breathtaking environment and comfortable accommodations, a Lifeshine respite trip enables the entire family to relax and enjoy quality time while looking forward to a healthier future.

Due to the risk of cross infection, only one family can stay at a respite home at a time. Child Life Society is in need of new respite homes in order to accommodate all the families it assists. Your generosity will serve as a lifeline for them.

“The ocean water, if they take that in for a good ten days, they are probably good healthwise for 6-8 months – which is great.”
